
KEY DIFFERENCE:

Rolling elements use balls/rollers to convert sliding to rolling friction

Plain bearings rely on a lubricant film or low−friction materials