

KEY DIFFERENCE:

Rolling elements use balls/rollers to convert sliding to rolling friction
Plain bearings rely on a lubricant film or low-friction materials